DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Which layer includes the metal stearate and filler.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 8-11, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kennedy et al (6,325,731). Claim 1, Kennedy discloses a golf ball comprising a core and a cover layer. The cover layer is made from an ionomer resin that is totally or partially neutralized. The flexural modulus is from 15,000 to 70,000psi and the Shore D hardness is at least 50 (col. 16, 18). Claim 8, the core has a diameter from 1.2 to 1.6 inches, a weight from 30 to 40 grams, and compression of 90 or less. Claim 9, the cover layer has a thickness from 0.01 to 0.1 inch. Claim 10, the finished golf ball has a diameter of 1.68 inches or more and a weight of 1.62 ounces. Claim 11, the melt flow rate will be equivalent since the materials are equivalent. Claim 16, the golf ball has a compression between 80 and 100 and a weighs 1.62 ounces. The COR is at least 0.770. The hardness of the cover layer is at least 50. Since the materials and properties for the core and cover layers are equivalent to those claimed by applicant the spin rate of the golf ball will also be the equivalent. Kennedy overlaps the ranges claimed by applicant. One of ordinary skill in the art would vary the ranges to obtain the desired properties.

Art Unit: 3711

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 17-20 and 12-15 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
